

THE Professional Music Community

Still not sure of what Song Tank is and how it could work for you? Read on to hopefully answer those questions. If you still have questions, please drop us a line at info@song-tank.com.

What is Song Tank?

Song-Tank is a 'professionals only' online community for Songwriters, Composers, Copyright Owners and Music Commissioners. There are 2 types of members on Song Tank:

Subscribed Member - songwriters, composers, copyright owners - basically everyone who has 'Got Music'. Subscribed members can upload music and have access to ALL AREAS of the site including our exclusive Who's Looking and Competitions & Promotions sections.

Registered Member - Record & Publishing Companies, Ad Agencies, Film & TV Production Companies, Games Companies - all commissioners of music - people who 'Want Music'. Registered members cannot upload music or access certain areas including Who's Looking but can post their own requirements in this section.

All members are able to access our buzzing Forums, post comments, read our Latest News (RSS Feeds) and our News & Reviews (professionally and exclusively written for Song Tank).

Profiles

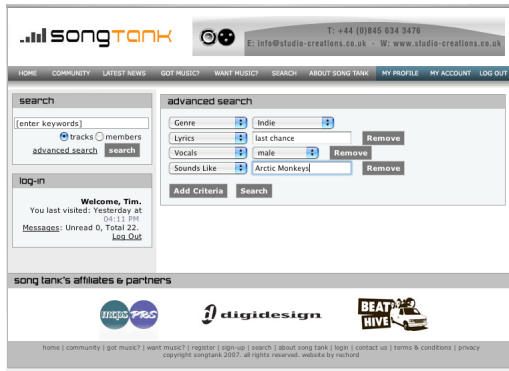

Every member has a profile, which includes space for a biography, photo and clickable list of friends. This forms your basic 'ID' when networking with other Song Tank users and it's highly recommended you spend a little time completing this sufficiently.

Incorporated as part of a Subscribed member's profile is the ability to upload and showcase their music in our unique Private, Friends Only and Public folders, enabling different levels of privacy and access. The amount of music space and folder functionality is dependent on the level of subscription: i.e. Song Tank Intro or Song Tank Pro.

All members can create and save playlists of their favourite or project-relevant music on Song Tank using the 'My Song Tank' function. Then tracks or playlists (without limit) can simply be sent to other Song Tank members in a private message – instantly received with no upload/ download issues regarding bandwidth or file size. Say goodbye to the email!

Search Engine

Commissioners can search Song Tank's database of music using our tailored and infinitely adaptable Search Engine.

Broad searches - on, say, musical genre - or Specific searches - on an infinite combination of values including genre, instrumentation, vocal type, mood etc – are equally simple to perform.

Relevant results are then simply added to 'My Song Tank' for later consideration or forwarding to friends or colleagues.

Who's Looking?

Our exclusive 'Who's Looking' section allows any commissioner of music to detail their requirements.

This can be done privately to selected members of their friends list or publicly to subscribed members in the Who's Looking section.

Briefs in the Who's Looking section are separated into areas of interest which members are able to subscribe to - every time a new brief is posted in a subscribed area of interest, that member will be notified via email.

Responding to a brief is simple - click 'Respond To This Brief' and a list of your uploaded tracks appears. Then, check the box next to your chosen tracks and hit submit – Done!

Checking on submitted tracks is even simpler for the commissioner – within 'Who's Looking' in their profile, clicking 'Check' next to the appropriate brief returns a list of all tracks submitted. Tracks can then be added to 'My Song Tank' as per the search results above.

How could Song Tank work for you?

If you are an industry professional, Song Tank will work for you. Whether you've 'Got Music' or 'Want Music', the opportunity to network and collaborate with like-minded people is priceless. If you've 'Got Music', the ability to simply and effectively organise, categorise and showcase your music has long been called for. Or if you 'Want Music', the ability to post your requirements directly to the best in the business or search such a high quality database has before now only been an 'I wish I could....'

So take a little time, put in a little effort and be patient – Song Tank can definitely broaden your network and open doors you may not have realised were there.
